Liability of Husband for Unrequested Operation on Wife.

It is held that a husband is not liable to a surgeon who operated upon his wife during the husband's temporary absence from the city, where the wife did not request the operation, but merely passively acquiesced in it, and no person having any power of agency for the husband requested or authorized it.—Kennedy vs. Benson, New York Appellate Division, 144 N. Y. Supp., 787.

Weather

Temp.

Very warm. Mother went to Kingsville
in afternoon to get some print.
Eugene took Rich's home with him after dinner. Took Mrs. Cox + E. v. Lynn to the Lawn Social at Walter Ashton + played the accompaniment for Alita
to sing + Eugene also on Violin.
Rained in the morning. Little pig worked his way out for the first. Mother mended my rain coat.
Mariah smiles.
