

<sup>3</sup> and back studding up. Henry quit early to pick some apples. He wanted some Galman sweets and as we had quite a lot we don't want we told him he could have them. Dad plowed nearly all day but got the field finished all but running the cross ditches. Jim Bush is plowing up the gull for Jack and I guess is having quite a time of it. This was Aunty Alice's birth day and Aunty has been up visiting her all day. Enah and Jiddums went down to see her this afternoon and we were going down after tea but it was so wet we didn't go. I went to bed about eight o'clock. Frank went down to confirmation class and to call on Jonas who fell down cellar this morning and hurt him self. I guess he thinks he is about killed. It has been a miserable day. Cloudy and cold and wet. Aunty has sent Jiddums a dandy doll she made out of corn husks.

Friday November 6th

Right after breakfast this morning. Frank and I drove down in the lumber waggon and got some more nail and scantling. We also took what apples Henry had picked down to him. Frank went onto school when he got the stuff for one. Henry and I worked all day at the hen house and have the frame all up and the back siding on. Dad hauled in the corn that was husked and some rails and ran out the ditches in the field he just plowed. This afternoon he plowed the garden. He hauled the waggon in the orchard to fill with apples to take up to Walker Waddles tomorrow. Frank was down at Jonas's for a long time to night visiting him. He seems greatly struck on him. Jonas says he has broken a rib and seems to be trying to make himself believe he is killed. It has been a rather decent day, not so cold as yesterday.

Henry was over at half past six this morning and put what he could of the sheeting on but discovered that there was only about half enough so Dad & I drove down in the rack after breakfast to get some but both Tommy & the Wide spread were all out of it but expected some in a day or two. We tried at Jack Martin's to see if he had any he could let us have but they were waiting for it too. We got some roofing paper and nail and got Hubby's two cider peps and came home rather disgusted. - as it was a fine day to put on the roofing and we didn't know when there will be another like it. Henry picked a few apples for him self and cut the boards for the front cornice. Dad & I hauled in some corn stalks before dinner. This afternoon Dad & Frank took the load of peps that Frank picked up this morning up to Walker Waddles and got our barrel and Hubby's 2 peps filled. They didn't get back till about five. Henry and I were all the afternoon putting siding on the end of the old chicken house and it has improved the appearance of it 100%. Henry left his tools here and said he would come back when the lumber came if he wasn't busy. He only charged me $3.75 for all he has done and then told me not to pay him now. and he has made a fine job so far. Marsh from up the Gravel Road was in this morning to look at the rams but didn't buy on account of the price. It has been another lovely day sunny & mild.
