 his team on our mower and mowed the piece east of the ditch while the other four of us followed the mower and kept the swath out of his way and lunched it. He got that piece down about nine o'clock and then we loaded up both our rack and theirs and Charlie & Frank took them down We hooked up Joe & Bell to the mower when they left and I started to cut the other side of the ditch while Dad and Art kept it out of my road. I didn't finish till after dinner. Frank and Charlie took all that was left down in two more loads but Charlie had about two tons on he put all he could on to draw out of the field and then finished the load with what he could draw in a couple of waggons loads. When they went down with the two last loads Dad, Art, and I hooked to the wagon and went out and started to cut Charlie's. I cut till about five when the boys come back with the waggons but Charlie said they were filled up down at the factory so they couldn't haul any down to night. We put the big team on the mower and Dad went home with the little team and the wagon. The rest of us stayed till nearly half past six but as there was about an hour's cutting yet, we quit and Frank, Art and I went home. Charlie stayed to monkey with his bees
