

an old Cedar tree stood quite near the Church and was used at one time for a belfrey. Continued our drive by the North Shore past Government House, which is situated on a high hill overlooking Hamilton and is the near the sea. Returned to Hamilton & then went out to St. John's Church Pembroke which has been rebuilt and is therefore quite modern. In the evening we went for a row over to one of the Islands where Mr. Muckle had a bath and we returned by moonlight - phosphorescent sea.

July 1st - Rowed over to arms in the Row boat where sat. we stayed for tea and returned again by moonlight. The lights of Hamilton looked very pretty and the Fire Brigade were practising their hoses, out in the Bay and which they were trying to extinguish looked quite pretty. and added considerably to the loveliness of the scene. We hurried home as quickly as possible on account of the roughness of the boys who usually occupy the town on Saturday nights.
