

Saturday April 25th

I spent the forenoon having one row of strawberries they should have been all cleaned out last fall but I didn't get it done and there is a considerable amount of grass in them. This afternoon I drove Agatha down to catch the car, she promised to come back on the m. car Monday. I spent an hour or so down at Aunt's talking with Mr. Parks and looking over the lists of property of the Dick estate.

Aunt Alice & I marked several books in the library which we thought would be worth sending out. Mrs. Lidney M. Innes ran into Eldon Crosshill's buggy to night and smashed it up a little and the horse ran away free of the buggy. no one was hurt.

Sunday April 26th

Mary & I took things easy this morning but got all the chores done and dressed up after dinner as I thought that Tom Snowden passed me on the road yesterday and said they would be up to day they all came with Mr. & Mrs. Will Ward about the middle of the afternoon. They hadn't been here long when Dad & Mr. Parks drove over. Soon after that we were threatened with a thunder-storm so the Nanticoke folk left in rather a hurry but Dad & Mr. Parks waited till it was over, it soon was and it came out nice after it although it rained more later on. It was cooler after it and the wind got around to the northeast. Dad said they intended going to Port Rawan to-morrow and asked me if I could go as I had said I would like to when they went.

Monday April 27th

Mary B and I went over to the farm as early as we could get away as Dad said they wanted to start about nine. Mary B was spending the day with "Gran". Dad said we were going up in Aunt's old car as they couldn't get another and Aunt has been getting his all fixed up at Mr. Park's expense or rather the estate's for such occasions as this. Aunt's Mr. Parks drove over about 10:30 and we got to Port Rawan soon after noon. but stopped in St. Williams for quite a while for Dad & Mr. Parks to interview Dr. Andrew M. Innes who knew Great Grandfather & Uncle Quintin well and is going to Simcoe on Friday to make an affidavit for them.
