

TUESDAY, APRIL 30, 1872.

Tuesday June 24th 1879

I feel unable to read or to criticize any thing I wrote to Maggie and invited her to come early but have received no answer, I hope to have response before the end of the week. The brain seems to be badly disordered and even my speech and understanding is thoroughly upset - doubtful if I can write any hereafter. She must come and visit if possible my own weakness is unhappy enough and there is little satisfaction -

Recd answer from Maggie but she declines to visit during the summer but will come after harvest!!!

Wednesday June 25th

Ben Carter this day passed away. looking back over 35 years his life has been a peculiarity. for 34 years he has been painfully affected

Friday June 27th

Samuel M. Watters, reached peace & quietness, for a whole year he had suffered fearfully and until the last 2 weeks was in constant pain
