Gastric Aphorisms—No. 1.

The key to a large proportion of cases beyond the fourth decade will be found to be malignancy, atonicity or ptosis or else all three of them.

Gaseous distension of the stomach is practically always due to a neurosis. The air is swallowed. It is impossible for fermentation to proceed to such an extent as to fill the organ.—
Bell; Med. Herald.

Weather

Temp.

Rained in the night & nearly all the fore noon & was foggy looking all the afternoon. Warm
& the roads quite muddy.
John was over to Mark's this afternoon & Mark was over here to night. I did my washing
