215 DAYS PAST

150 TO COME

An Essential Need

of the tuberculous invalid is hemic reconstruction. New red cells and more hemoglobin are required to increase the ability of the organism to assimilate food and withstand the infection. Pepto-Mangan (Gude) supplies iron and manganese in non-irritant, easily absorbable form, and does not, in the least, interfere with the patient's digestion, an item of no mean importance in the treatment of this disease.
