

till about eleven and then went down town and got some wire to finish the chicken fence. Dad. helped me put it up after dinner before he went out to cultivate. I planted some pop corn in the garden between the potato rows and then spudded thistles till chore time. Charlie Shand was in to tell us the stone had come for the road. Quite warm to day but nice breeze.
Bucky set nine posts along J. W.'s line to-day.

Saturday June 26th

Dad. & I got down to the car about half past eight this morning and I stayed there till we got it all un loaded. Bucky was there too. There was only half a car for us, the other half was a little corner and was for Dave Tompkins's bridge but they had a little more than they wanted so we took two or three loads of it. We were really through at noon but Dad. & Supper said they wouldn't mind coming back for the sake of having it done right so instead of going home to dinner I went out to the Shands and saved a long walk. Dad. went home. This after noon we got some sandy loam along Supper's fence and covered the rest of the stones on the Winding Hills. We didn't work very hard but got it all done by six o'clock. Frank cultivated corn all day and has big blisters on his feet. Bucky came over at noon and set some more fence posts. It has been pretty hot and sunny all day. We need a good rain now.

Sunday June 27th

Frank went to Sunday School and Church this morning but Dick and I went down to the Guanbury's for a swim. Dad. Ernie and Sid drove up to the cemetery. This after noon Dick and I went down town and Frank went for a ride on his wheel and didn't get home till about eight o'clock. The Odd fellows marched this after noon and went up to the cemetery but they didn't have any hand. I just hummed around the beach and park all the after noon. It was very hot and sunny all day.

Monday June 28th

Frank has put in another good long day in the corn field with old Dandy. It is beginning to look pretty nice. Bucky has been setting fence posts all day - and this after noon Dad. went back with him and slashed down a lot of young ash that were in the road. It is pretty hard digging back there now. This morning Dad. & I sharpened the mower knives and I got started cutting on the corner field. It is so weedy Dad. wants to get it done before the first of July as he doesn't want sojourners into Dover to see it. I got a pretty good start with it but was hathered considerably with the brass housing at the end of the pitman rod heating and had to take it off two or three times. Chris Guanbury from Lynn Valley came down to
