on the late train which did not get in until half past ten. Mild day - colder at night.

February 11. Went down for breakfast. Practised over Wednesday an hour. Phoned Stewart to find out how Jim was. Jim said the doctors thought if they could watch his heart he would be alright. She told me that Jean Johnson had just had a telegram saying that Mrs. Miller Johnson was dead but not giving any particulars. Went to Mrs. Coo's for my music lesson and from there to the Public Library to help Mrs. Ferguson with the catalogue. Miss Elworthy called with the books and cards and after tea I wrote 204 Library Cards. Dinner was up for awhile. Soft water in bath room done. No thaw all winter to supply any.

February 12th (Thursday) Wrote a couple of letters for Charles. Then wrote a playlet "Business is Business" for Miss Meuser's Boys for her Recital. Typed it and took it down to her. Started it about a quarter to 11 and finished it about a quarter to 12. Then
