

fountains in the court and Palm trees all around the place also a snaf of the Statue of Ponce de Leon, which also showed the large bridge across the river to the beach sat in a little Park in the square waiting for the procession. it seemed to be in sections. the first was the 1st Americans who were Indians. a lot of them on horses decked out in Indian suits. feathers etc. the 2nd section represented the Spaniards who came 2nd in history they were in Spanish costume and led by Ponce de Leon.
they were mostly on horses too.

3rd came the British who had possession for a while. they seemed to have dark suits with white collars & cuffs. with knee high boots. and a flat topped black hat.
finally the Americans in old fashioned costumes carrying lances. each section had a band.
took a snaf of a Hansom Cab (the first I ever saw) then we had dinner at a restaurant $1.40 but a folder 10¢ with some nice views. then walked around the town saw the oldest house in W.S. took a snaf of it saw some of the old streets & buildings
